Saifuddin Insaf

Saifuddin Insaf is a name that is intertwined with the Dawoodi Bohra Reform Movement.

From his early teenage days to his last breath on Saturday, 6th October 2018, Saifuddin Saab worked tirelessly to inspire Dawoodi Bohras by exposing the un-Islamic methods and vices of the Kothar given credence by the diktats of the Syedna.

Saifuddin Saab would and could not tolerate injustice and was compelled to act, so much so that he left his Engineer's job in 1995 to dedicate himself to the cause of Reform in the Dawoodi Bohra Community.

His dedicated service of at least 25 years in compiling, editing, contributing and publishing of the iconic Bohra Chronicle newspaper will remain a challenge for the Reform Movement to continue with. Published in two languages, English and Gujarati, it chronicles Islamic and Dawoodi Bohra history, appropriate personal contributions, world-wide related news and the latest diktats of the Syedna.

Saifuddin Insaf Saab has a high place in the annals of the Reform Movement and will be missed a lot. Partners of the Worldwide Reform Movement and Dawoodi Bohra Welfare Society in GB members pay tribute to Saifuddin Insaf and extend our support and condolences to fellow brethren and particularly his family members.

As Saifuddin Saab said "Chup na rehna, chup na rehna, chup na rehna, dosto. Chup rahe toh zaalimo ke hosle badh jayenge
("Don't stay quiet, don't stay quiet, don't stay quiet. If you stay quiet the oppressor will become emboldened")

May Allah be pleased with him and afford him a lofty place in the heavenly abode.
